1. The

heart, bow'd down by weight of woe, To weak - est hopes will cling: To thought and impulse, while they flow, That can no com - fort bring that can, that can no com - fort bring, With those ex - ci - ting scenes will blend, O'er plea - sure's path - way thrown; But mem-ry is the on-ly friend That grief can call its own, That grief can call its own..... That grief can call its own.

The mind, will, in its worst despair,
 Still ponder o'er the past, Oh! moments of delight, that were Too beautiful to last,—
 That were too beautiful to last.
 To long departed years extend Its visions, with them flown,
 For mem'ry is the only friend
 That grief can call its own.
 That grief, &c.
